ROSA PARKS

BEYOND THE PERF

"Memories of our lives, of our works and our deeds, will continue in others."

★ ROSA PARKS ★

On December 1, 1955, an unknown African-American seamstress boarded a bus in Montgomery, Alabama. When the white section filled, the driver ordered her to relinquish her seat to a white passenger. Exhausted from a long day of work, Rosa Parks refused his demand and was arrested for violating a city ordinance.

The defining events in our history are comprised of many such moments: regular individuals simply trying to make their way in the world, but whose courage to stand up for what they believe in — for their freedom and the rights of others — is nothing less than extraordinary.

During this Black History Month and throughout the year, the Postal Service celebrates such outstanding Americans and their contributions that helped to shape our nation. Through issuances like Rosa Parks and Emancipation Proclamation — the first two of a three-stamp set commemorating significant anniversaries in the struggle for African-American civil rights — we recognize their works and deeds, and we invite you to do the same.

By sharing their spirit and courage on every letter you send, and through every stamp you collect, the brave acts of our nation's everyday heroes will be remembered for generations.

A The Rosa Parks stamp marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of the iconic figure of the civil rights movement. By refusing on December 1, 1955, to give up her seat on a municipal bus in Montgomery, Alabama, to a white man, Parks inspired a movement to end racial segregation.

A self-supporting government enterprise, the U.S. Postal Service is the only delivery service that reaches every address in the nation, 150 million residences, businesses and Post Office Boxes. The Postal Service receives no direct support from taxpayers. With 36,000 retail locations and the most frequently visited website in the federal government, the Postal Service relies on the sale of postage, products and services to pay for operating expenses. Named the Most Trusted Government Agency five consecutive years and the sixth Most Trusted Business in the nation by the Ponemon Institute, the Postal Service has annual revenue of more than $68 billion and delivers nearly half the world's mail. If it were a private sector company, the U.S. Postal Service would rank 26th in the 2008 Fortune 500.

A A bundle of firecrackers — colored red for luck — highlight the Year of the Snake stamp, sixth in the Celebrating Lunar New Year series. The Year of the Snake begins on February 10, 2013, and ends on January 30, 2014.

B This stamp commemorates the 150th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation, which President Abraham Lincoln signed on January 1, 1863. Lincoln's proclamation, issued nearly two years into the Civil War, declared that all slaves in the rebel states of the Confederacy "are, and henceforward shall be free."

C A red, white, and blue striped star, seemingly crafted from striped ribbon, surrounds a small white star on this new stamp celebrating American patriotism.
